

Government changes mind on possible seizure of home dwellings for tax debt

Right or wrong (sadly, often wrong) my Country. On 22 June 2013, Govt announced a moratorium on possible seizure of home dwellings by the executive arm of the Inland revenues office. Being a moratorium, it was intended that it was supposed to operate for the past. Now, during a question time, Govt declares the opposite: seizure can occur if the foreclosure was initiated before 22 June 2013. (-> here).
